Our Francophone Heritage

New Orleans is at the heart of our American Francophone heritage, but many of us are unfamiliar with the specifics of the traditions of French language and all the different French-speaking cultures that contributed to the multicultural heritage of the city. In fact, although New Orleans was founded in 1718 by Jean-Baptiste Le Moyne de Bienville, in 1763 it was ceded to Spain by the Traité de Paris until 1801 when it was returned to French control. Shortly thereafter, it was sold to the U.S. as part of the Louisiana Purchase.

The presence of French speakers in the city has always been significant, and the history of immigration to New Orleans and to Louisiana is fascinating. In particular, many Acadians eventually found their way to Louisiana following the Grand Dé rpangement in 1755, and they were later joined by refugees from the Haitian Revolution in 1804. These and many other groups form the cultural melting pot that is New Orleans.

At the time of the Civil War, New Orleans was the largest city in the South, and from the earliest days has been an important port. Located 105 miles upstream from the mouth of the Mississippi River, it is today the fifth largest U.S. port. Situated on both sides of a bend in the river and along the shores of Lake Ponchartrain, much of the city is at or above sea level, although on average it is below sea level. After hurricane Katrina, most of the city was flooded when the levee system failed.

New Orleans is famous for its cuisine. Hopefully, everyone will have a chance to sample the cuisine. When the levee system failed. Katrina, most of the city was flooded when the levee system failed. After hurricane Katrina, most of the city was flooded when the levee system failed. New Orleans is famous for its cuisine. Hopefully, everyone will have a chance to sample the beignets and café au lait at Café du Monde, but also the gumbo, crawfish étouffé, and po' boys, and much more that the city’s restaurants have to offer.

New Orleans has many historic neighborhoods, and we are arranging walking tours of parts of the city. St. Louis Cathedral is the oldest cathedral in the U.S. New Orleans is the birthplace of jazz, and participants can explore the music and nightlife along Bourbon Street right outside our hotel.

Program

We expect to have a full program of sessions and workshops with a number of additional features, including a dictée. We are also exploring possible areas of collaboration with local groups. We are working with our local contacts as well as the Centre de la Francophonie des Amériques in organizing the convention.

We are planning sessions that will highlight the French heritage in Louisiana, efforts to preserve the linguistic heritage and to ensure the teaching of French in Louisiana schools, as well as sessions on the history, music, cultural traditions, and literature of the state.

In addition to all the inspiration that can be drawn from lessons from the French, Cadien, and Creole heritage of the city and state, participants can also learn about the geography and geology of the Mississippi River. From 1682 when Robert, cavalier de la Salle claimed the territory for France, the river has attracted interest. First as a path for exploring, most often as an avenue of commerce with the vast interior of the country, it was also a gateway for rival powers. It is no surprise that one of the first goals of the Union during the Civil War was to secure the port of New Orleans. The geographic position of the city and the unique environmental concerns of the Mississippi Delta also provide food for research and classroom projects.

Activities

In addition to the wonderful summer activities traditionally available in New Orleans, we are working on a number of ideas for post-convention workshops and excursions to places of interest in the region.

Watch the AATF Web site for more details regarding costs, travel, the program, and other information which will be posted as the various elements are confirmed.

The AATF National Bulletin (ISSN 0883-6795) has its editorial offices at 2700 Ashland Avenue at Victory Parkway, Unit 22, Cincinnati, Ohio 45206; e-mail: [nbeditor@frenchteachers.org]. Correspondence and manuscripts should be sent to the editor at this address. The American Association of Teachers of French publishes the AATF National Bulletin four times a year in September, November, January, and April as a service to its members in supplement to the official journal of the association, the French Review. Subscription to the AATF National Bulletin requires membership in the organization. Periodicals postage paid at the Carbondale, IL Post Office. Office of Publication: AATF, Mailcode 4510, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901.

All items published in the National Bulletin are the property of the American Association of Teachers of French. They may be copied for classroom or workshop use only if the source and date of publication are indicated on the copies.

Postmaster: Send address changes to AATF, Mailcode 4510, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901.

Deadlines for submissions of materials to the National Bulletin: September issue, August 1; November issue, September 1; January issue, November 1; April issue, February 1.

Please note: Because of convention dates and other deadlines, unlike commercial magazines, the issues of the National Bulletin are mailed during the given month of publication and should reach most readers by the end of that month.
MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Bonne année, bonne santé à tout le monde! As the new year dawns, may it bring you much success and happiness. As French teachers, may we see prosperity in our classes and a revitalized interest in France and la Francophonie. The AATF has many initiatives that encourage us.

First of all, think vacation. When you visit New Orleans in July, bring your family and friends and spend a few more days exploring la Francophonie in America. A few more days, that is, after you have attended the AATF 2014 Convention (July 19-22). Our convention promises to bring you opportunities for professional development, immersion in French, and interaction with other teachers. You will experience “le français, langue à multiples visages” in the heart of the Vieux carré. The carnival masks will remind you that French is the language of literature, science, art, business, the media, and has many other lives that you will discover as you share with colleagues.

In New Orleans, you will learn of our Exemplary Program Award. Your program may qualify, especially if you are reading this. We are looking for innovation in ideas and enthusiasm in teaching. Does your school have a FLES or middle school program? Do you teach Level 5, AP, or IB? Does your university have a combination French major or minor with other disciplines? Do you have exchange programs, study abroad, creative internships or service learning projects? Do your students engage in innovative projects? If so, we want to advertise your program on our Web site and recognize your school or university. Good models inspire more good programs. Become a model, and generate more models.

You can also promote your French program by participating in the National French Contest. Most chapters require registration in January. Now is the time to prepare the forms. If you have been a long-time participant, you know the benefits. Encourage more of your students to take the Concours. If you have not participated for some time, you may be surprised at the changes. Your students will experience real language, taken from authentic written and oral texts. This will in turn prepare them for AP and IB. Like these other exams, the Grand Concours places grammar in context, so that it becomes more meaningful to the student as an experience and more useful to the teacher as an assessment. Don’t forget: Every child is a winner! Join the nearly 100,000 who are among the gagnants each year (see the AATF Web site).

As the second semester approaches, schools plan awards ceremonies. Let French be a part of them. The AATF sponsors the Société Honoraire de Français, to which your outstanding students can belong (see pages 22, 31). I have often assisted at this impressive ceremony as a speaker and can assure you that students and parents consider their induction a great honor. It may help the students to gain admission to the college of their choice and eventually open doors to a career. The Société Honoraire and Concours are among our most popular membership benefits. You may not know that the AATF also offers an Outstanding Senior in French Award to both high school and university students. It too will bring joy to the recipient and will promote French at the same time. While only one student can receive this award, any number of good students may receive the Excellence in French Award. Try it this year!

While we have many dedicated members in the AATF, we still have more teachers of French who have never even heard of the association. If we want to present a united front in the face of negative publicity directed toward foreign language study, we need to increase our membership. No amount of advertising will equal one personal contact. Make a new year’s resolution to interest a nonmember colleague or acquaintance in joining the AATF. Invite the person to a meeting of your local chapter. Pass on this copy of the National Bulletin. Send for some of our flyers or pick up a few at the local or regional conferences, and share them with others. The cost of membership is very little in comparison with the benefits. The AATF advocates for you and for the study of French. Remember also to nominate a candidate for the AATF Leadership Program (see page 17) which precedes the National Convention. Our past leaders are already contributing marvelously to the Association. We need more people to spread the word that French is alive and well.

And now for a bit of long-range planning: the AATF is going from south to north, from New Orleans in 2014 to the beautiful Saguenay region of Quebec in 2015. Plan your vacations now in conjunction with the National Convention. Both spots are filled with la Francophonie. Tell your colleagues about these opportunities. If you want still more immersion, look into the scholarships offered by the AATF through the Embassy of France, the Quebec Government, and Belgium. All of these opportunities are listed on our newly-updated Web site. If you haven’t visited us recently, go to [www.frenchteachers.org], and you will be surprised and pleased with the new look.

As the New Year begins and warmer days are on the way (“We are nearer to spring than we were in September”), I would like to remind you that I am anxious to visit any of your chapters that I can. If I cannot come, I would be glad to share your newsletters, exchange e-mails or phone calls with you, and promote your programs in any way possible. I met many of you at ACTFL, especially our southern colleagues, and will be attending the Northeast Conference and possibly another of the regional meetings. Please stop by and introduce yourself.

Meanwhile, think of “le français, langue à multiples visages.” Introduce your students to the idea that French is everywhere: on all continents, in all historic ages, in all the professions. They will find it in literature and on labels, in English language roots and popular expressions, in the European Union and the United Nations. France and Canada are high on the list of our trading partners, and French technology is behind many of the products we use and the planes in which we fly. The future of French depends on all of us, and the AATF is here to encourage and sustain us. Bonne et heureuse année!

Support the AATF and the Promotion of French in the U.S.

The AATF exists to support teachers of French in the U.S. Our mission is to support all efforts destined to advance the French language and literatures as well as all French-speaking cultures. We encourage collaboration among teachers in the public and private sectors as well as among all levels of teaching. We strive to provide members with the tools needed to advocate for French study and promote the teaching and learning of French in their schools and communities.

In 2007, we launched a special campaign to commemorate the 80th anniversary of the founding of the AATF with some special contributor categories:

- 80th Anniversary Club ($80)
- Sponsor ($500)
- Patron ($100)
- Sustaining Member ($50)
- Other amount

In addition, the Executive Council established special contributor designations and benefits for those who pledge larger amounts:

Platinum Level Benefactor: Awarded to any member with more than 10 years of membership who has named the AATF as a beneficiary in his or her will for at least $10,000. The Platinum Benefactor will receive a framed certificate, honorary membership status, complimentary registration to all future AATF conventions, and be placed on the Web site Honor Roll of donors;

Gold Level Benefactor: Awarded to any member with more than 10 years of membership who has named the AATF as a beneficiary in his or her will for at least $5000. The Gold Benefactor will receive a framed certificate, life membership status, complimentary registration to all future AATF conventions, and be placed on the Web site Honor Roll of donors;

Silver Level Benefactor: Awarded to any member with more than 10 years of membership who contributes at least $2500 in a given year. The Silver Benefactor will receive a framed certificate, complimentary registration to all future AATF conventions, and be placed on the Web site Honor Roll of donors;

Bronze Level Benefactor: Awarded to any member with more than 10 years of membership who contributes at least $1000 in a given year to the AATF. The Bronze Benefactor will receive a framed certificate and be placed on the Web site Honor Roll of donors.

In addition to these categories, members will also be recognized each November in the National Bulletin as a Sponsor, Patron, or Sustaining Member. However, we welcome contributions in any amount. Please make a donation to the AATF Fund for the Future when you return your dues invoice this fall. A contribution made in 2014 is deductible on your 2014 income tax return.

Your generous donations, which are tax deductible, support our many activities, including:

- 12 publications per year
- National French Week
- National French Contest
- Société honoraire de français
- contests for students at all levels
- the work of the AATF commissions
- an award-winning Web site
- collaborative projects such as the National Standards for Foreign Language Learning
- promotional and advocacy materials for programs in difficulty
- annual conventions around the U.S. and in many Francophone locations (Quebec, France, Belgium, Martinique)
- more than 15 scholarships to France, Quebec, and Belgium
- more than $5,000 in grants
- numerous awards and honors for members and their students and administrators

For more information on AATF activities, visit [www.frenchteachers.org].

To become a sponsor or benefactor, send your contribution to AATF, Mailcode 4510, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901.

Vol. 39, No. 3 (January 2014)
Chers Collègues,

J’aimerais souhaiter à toutes et à tous un heureux et prospère 2014.

Si vous n’avez pas encore renouvelé votre adhésion à l’AATF pour 2014, je vous encourage à le faire aussi rapidement que possible. Si vous voulez participer au Grand Concours, à la Société Honoraire de Français ou au congrès de la Nouvelle Orléans, il est important de vous occuper de votre cotisation à l’avance. Plus les membres renouvelent tôt, plus nous économisons des frais de poste, et vous n’encourrez pas le risque de manquer des annonces pertinentes. Nous vous remercions de votre fidélité.

Pourquoi devenir membre de l’AATF

Les avantages de l’adhésion à une association professionnelle varient d’une personne à l’autre. Il suffit de parler aux membres qui assistent à un congrès de l’AATF et deviennent par la suite des habitués, aux professeurs qui inscrivent régulièrement leurs élèves au Grand Concours et à la Société Honoraire de Français et qui créent une tradition d’excellence dans leur école ou aux professeurs d’université qui soumettent un article ou un compte-rendu à la French Review et qui se retrouvent plus tard comme évaluateur ou même rédacteur de la revue. Il est étonnant de voir dans la liste des boursiers, des récipiendaires des Small Grants, des lauréats de nos différences prix ceux qui profitent de cette expérience pour servir l’association comme responsable au niveau du chapitre ou au niveau national.

Recrutement

La force de notre association vient de nos effectifs. Il est important que tous les professeurs de français aux USA, quel que soit le niveau, soient membres de l’AATF. De cette façon, nous pouvons mieux cerner la situation de l’enseignement du français, mieux défendre les programmes en difficulté et encore plus significatif, éviter les crises en soutenant les efforts de promotion dans les établissements. Ceux qui s’intéressent à ce que le français reste parmi les langues offertes dans les écoles et universités américaines devraient se joindre à nous afin de soutenir nos efforts pour sauvegarder des programmes menacés de disparition. Il faut rester vigilants. Il faut promouvoir l’importance du français en dehors de nos murs, et il faut mettre en évidence les accomplissements des élèves. Il est plus difficile de suggérer la coupure d’un programme qui brille par des activités, des prix, des projets innovateurs, des échanges, etc. La meilleure défense pour un programme est une offensive planifiée et soutenue pour mettre en évidence la valeur de l’enseignement du français. Ne restez pas dans un coin en espérant que tout ira bien.

Aidez-nous à contacter tous les professeurs de français à tous les niveaux.

Envoyez-nous les noms de membres potentiels. Vous pouvez nous les envoyer directement à [recruit@frenchteachers.org].

Si vous assistez à un congrès, pensez à repérer les noms d’intervenants qui parlent du français. Nous les contacterons. Si vous organisez un événement dans votre chapitre, pensez à comment vous pouvez le transformer en activité de recrutement. Si vous connaissez des étudiants qui se préparent à une carrière d’enseignant ou des stagiaires, invitez-les à faire partie de notre réseau ou encore mieux faites-leur le cadeau d’une année d’adhésion.

Advocacy

Si vous vous sentez nerveux quant au soutien de vos administrateurs, familiarisez-vous avec les documents suivants sur notre site Web à [www.frenchteachers.org]:

- Advocacy Depot: vous y trouverez des liens utiles vers des ressources pour la défense du français, des sites consacrés à plusieurs états avec des données historiques et économiques ainsi que des stratégies d’utilisation ;
- Advocacy Wiki: vous y découvrirez des échantillons de documents, des lettres-types, des articles sur la difficulté relative de différentes langues étrangères, des données culturelles et économiques sur l’importance du français; des témoignages d’anciens élèves; des stratégies qui marchent;
- Archives du National Bulletin: il y a des articles sur la promotion du français, des activités grandes et petites pour mettre en valeur le travail des élèves et des idées pour la célébration de la Semaine du Français mais qui pourraient servir tout le long de l’année ;
- Joint National Committee for Languages/National Council for Languages and International Studies (JNCL/NCLIS): L’AATF est membre fondateur de cette fédération qui regroupe plus de 60 associations consacrées à l’enseignement des langues. Le site [www.languagepolicy.org] affichent des conseils pour monter des campagnes de défense, pour convaincre des décideurs et pour contacter les élus.

Notre Commission pour la Défense du français est prête à venir au secours des programmes directement menacés. N’hésitez pas à faire appel à nous.

Nouveaux moyens de communication

Nous faisons appel tous les jours aux nouveaux moyens de communication pour aider les professeurs de français. En plus du site Web où vous trouverez maintes ressources promotionnelles et pédagogiques, vous pouvez régler votre cotisation, passer des commandes pour la Société Honoraire de Français, obtenir des documents publiés par l’AATF, vous inscrire au congrès et nommer un/e élève pour un Outstanding Senior in French Award ou pour l’Excellence in French Award par le biais de notre magazine en ligne [https://store.frenchteachers.org].

L’AATF a une présence Facebook et Twitter [AATFrench]. Vous pouvez poser des questions aux collègues, afficher des annonces des activités de vos élèves, voir des offres d’emploi, et vous trouverez des liens vers d’autres ressources. La Société Honoraire de Français a sa propre page Facebook [SHF.AATF], Le Grand Concours a aussi une page Facebook [National-French-Contest], ainsi que plusieurs de nos chapitres.

Congrès régionaux

Si vous assistez au congrès de SCOLT, au Northeast Conference ou au Central States Conference, venez visiter le stand de l’AATF dans le salon des expositions et pensez à participer aux sessions et ateliers organisés par l’AATF. N’oubliez surtout pas le congrès de l’AATF du 19 au 22 juillet à la Nouvelle Orléans. Profitez d’un congrès entièrement dévoué au français et amenez votre famille pour visiter notre belle ville francophone.

MIDDLE SCHOOL COMMISSION SEEKING AUTHORS

The AATF Commission on Middle Schools is actively seeking teachers who would like to help in creating a hands-on volume of activities to accompany authentic children’s stories. Contributors will be sent a template to follow and will be assisted as they compile their activities. Final formatting will be done by the Commission Chair prior to publication of the volume.

In order to help those who are considering participating in this project, here are the steps to follow to prepare a story for publication in the AATF Middle School Manual:

- Choose an authentic children’s story from any Francophone country and please let me know what you have chosen in order to avoid any duplications.

- Page 1
  - Find a free graphic for your story;
  - Record the title, author, publication information, and the ISBN number;

- Pages 2-5+
  - Write a short summary of your story in English;
  - List the main vocabulary and grammatical structures addressed in the story.

If you have any questions, comments, and/or suggestions as you are working on your selection, please feel free to e-mail me, and I will be more than happy to help you in any way I can.

I look forward to receiving your completed activities!

If you are looking for support or information from the Cultural Service of the French Embassy regarding any of their programs, you can go to their Web site to find the most current information for each of the consulates, including Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami, New Orleans, New York, San Francisco, as well as for the Embassy in Washington. Go to [www.frenchculture.org]; click on “About Us,” then “Regional Offices.”
The Greater St. Louis Chapter continues to attract French teachers from all levels and offers their programs free of charge. Following the chapter’s tradition of offering culturally rich and intellectually stimulating programs, this past fall members gathered to explore the musical career of Jacques Brel. To respond to the members’ pedagogical needs, this program also included a discussion of research findings on the use of music in the classroom. Then, as in the previous year’s follow-up to a program on Jacques Prévert, the chapter joined with a local Francophone organization, La Société française, to offer their members and their students a live performance of Brel’s music.

Another example of working with Francophone organizations is the annual student “Concours de Rédaction,” an event held jointly by the AATF and the Alliance française de Saint Louis, that recognizes and encourages student excellence in writing. In January, the chapter’s officers joined with the local Alliance française de Saint Louis, to offer their members and their students a live performance of Brel’s music.

In terms of networking, this chapter takes advantage of the resources of its many local colleges and universities and has a very close relationship with the Alliance française de Minneapolis. Another AATF ally and collaborator is the group of local Minnesotans with French-Canadian roots who organize the annual “Franco-fête” which will change this year to a summer celebration. Recently the chapter has continued to not only enroll students in the National French Contest but also the annual Concours Oral which is a tradition that Minnesota shares with Wisconsin and that has spread to Illinois. Last winter, the Minnesota event included 1158 participants in spite of snowfall that prevented several schools from being able to attend!

The chapter has also continued its traditions of holding an annual breakfast for the recognition of the success of the Grand Concours as well as a spring dinner and program, this past year with French artist Béatrice Coron. The chapter’s annual Teacher of the Year prize was awarded to Dianne Sandberg of North High School, North St. Paul.

The Chapters of Region VI continue to fulfill their mission of offering professional support to their members and at the same time creating and cultivating partnerships with other Francophone and Francophile organizations.

A new initiative to memorialize longtime member Lillian Trottier, has begun with the establishment of a memorial fund to provide awards for students and their schools based on their performance on the National French Contest and at the chapter’s annual Concours Oral. This event includes both regional and final competitions with an increase in the elementary level entries this past year.

The Wisconsin Chapter has strong ties to the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and also with the University of Wisconsin-Madison where the annual “French Day” event took place. In addition to networking, this event shows high school French students what kind of undergraduate and graduate school opportunities await them in terms of majors, minors, combined degrees, service learning, and study abroad.

The Chicago/Northern Illinois Chapter, with the resources of the largest city in the Midwest, continued its tradition of providing its members with three cultural and pedagogical programs. Last year they chose to focus on theater, drama, and poetry in the winter and on technology and speaking activities in the spring. This past fall’s program was a delicious hands-on experience where teachers in small groups prepared “tartiflette” a dish from the Haute-Savoie that can easily be prepared with students. The 2013 National French Week celebration included the Wisconsin and Minnesota events, has done the same.

The annual Student Immersion Day has continued to grow and, for the third year, a Concours Oral in April, modeled on the Wisconsin and Minnesota events, has done the same.

Three chapter members received AATF Small Grants and three others, Pat Olderr, Todd Bowen, and National French Contest Director Lisa Narug received the prestigious designation of Chevalier dans l’Ordre des Palmes académiques. This past year’s Prix du Chapitre was awarded to members Bobbie Kieffer and Eloise Hel- land, and outgoing Attaché culturel adjoint at the French Consulate in Chicago, Jean-François Rochard was honored with a gift to thank him for his support and service to the mission of the AATF.

The chapter members now enjoy a newly-designed Web site and have continued to receive by mail three issues of the chapter newsletter which is also archived on the Web site. The Chapter continues to offer its members on-line interaction through Facebook.

The Greater Kansas City Chapter continues to have three regular events every year: member meetings in the fall and winter and this past year their third event was an Immersion Day for teachers, partially funded by an AATF Small Grant.

For their fall meeting, the Chapter met at Jazz Louisiana Kitchen. They enjoyed hearing reports about the AATF Convention in Providence, a presentation by AATF Summer Scholarship winner Susan Smith on her program in France, a brief overview by Nacer Khelouz of his visit to Algeria this summer and by Ann Sunderland and Janet Fisher of their tour of Morocco, by Susie Hennessy of her study abroad trip in France and by Katie Madigan with her reference to the French in the sign outside of the Great Bazaar in Instanbul. They thoroughly immersed themselves in French and Cajun cuisine!

In October, Claudine Evans and Katie Madigan represented France at Rock-hurst University’s World Cultures Day, with students in the advanced class impersonating French film directors and entertaining visitors who were lined up for crêpes; AATF members also attended the simulcast hosted at Rockhurst University and sponsored by the Alliance française of Julia Kristeva’s talk on the future of the humanities with Professor Arnold at the University of Chicago. In December, Chapter members also visited the Impressionist art exhibit at the Nelson-Atkins Museum with a tour in French with docent Shirley Spiegel and continued their tradition of a Christmas dinner together.

This chapter has a close relationship with the local Alliance française and is planning to partner with the AF on a webinar event.

The Downstate Illinois Chapter suffered a critical loss when its president, Katy Dueppen, and her family moved to Wisconsin. Member Lynda Lopez, happily, was ready to take up the leadership tasks. This past year, efforts were made to overcome the distances that separate many of the chapter members by holding informal meetings in a number of different areas.

Lynda visited with Downstate members and offered two sessions at the ICTFL state foreign language conference, “Diversity is Delicious,” which also featured chapter member and our own Executive Director, Jayne Abrate giving a half-day workshop on French cuisine.

The Iowa Chapter continues to use the state Foreign Language conference as the occasion for its membership meeting and is planning for elections to the executive council.

Respectfully submitted,
Eileen Walvoord

AAATF COMMISSION ON HIGH SCHOOLS

The goal of the Commission is to facilitate the sharing of lessons and materials for middle school and high school students that reflect the three modes of communication: interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational. We know that many teachers have developed excellent lessons for all levels of French that are thematic and develop critical thinking skills. Now is the time to share your excellent work with other teachers who are looking for more creative ways of presenting their content. Please consider submitting your lesson plans to Anne Jensen, Commission Chair, at [annejen sen@att.net]. On the Web site there is a five-step lesson plan template to ensure consistency in lesson plan format submissions. We hope that the Web site will become a place where teachers will find a variety of lessons and ideas for their classes. In language teaching, the idea of “vertical alignment” is not new. As a student passes from level to level within the same language, the teachers and curriculum must be “aligned” so that the student learns certain concepts at one level and then builds and moves on to the next. For example, in French I, the past tense for regular verbs is taught at the end of the course. Thus, in French II, the class reviews briefly the past tense and then learns the past tense for reflexive verbs and is introduced to past participle agreement, etc. In my experience, teachers of the same language enjoy collaborating and ensuring that their courses flow well together and provide smooth transitions between levels. Recently, it has come to my attention that we can add different, and perhaps more important, fodder to our conversations about “vertical alignment.” As the AP language exams are beginning to resemble each other in structure and thematic content, the AP teachers are seeing the potential benefits of having some of the skills, not just the grammar and vocabulary, introduced and built upon in the lower levels of the language. Wouldn’t students write a better essay in the AP class if they wrote essays before the AP year? Wouldn’t students be able to listen to and understand more thoroughly a target language news report in the AP class if they listened to target language news reports before the AP year? This seems logical; thus, foreign language teachers may find themselves broadening the scope of their “vertical alignment” conversations.

As a first order of business, it is necessary to understand the new AP language format and to know what the new exams are asking of our students. The College Board renovated the French AP Language exam in May 2012, and the Spanish and Chinese Language exams are following suit. There are two main parts to the exam, a multiple choice section (Part I) and a free-response section (Part 2). We will look at each section and at the underlying components/skills involved in order to succeed at both.

The multiple choice section (Part 1) is reading and listening comprehension, also known as interpretive communication. Part 1A is reading printed material and answering multiple choice questions about it. Part 1B is reading printed material, hearing an audio source on the same idea and answering multiple choice questions about the two. Part 1C is hearing an audio source alone and answering multiple choice questions about it.

The reading passages can come from literary texts, fiction or non-fiction, informative magazine or newspaper articles, advertisements, or even poems. The choices run the gamut. The one common denominator is that all are authentic target language excerpts and are printed largely in their original form. The same rings true for the audio sources. These are from the radio, a conversation on the street, from a university lecture, or an interview. Again, the audio sources include speakers of all accents from any country where the language is spoken and are spoken at native speaker speed. For the purposes of vertical alignment, the logical question is how can teachers at the pre-AP level help prepare students for these tasks. Ideally, teachers are able to find authentic material that naturally fits into the concepts being introduced at each level to enrich their textbook presentations. In reality, I believe that we have been doing this for years without truly realizing it and without doing it purposefully enough. For example, when teaching the superlative grammatical structure, we might find an advertisement that uses that structure. When teaching family vocabulary, we may find a radio report on the number of divorces or the average number of children born to families today. If we haven’t yet started to incorporate these methods into our early level curriculum, we may want to start here. And if we already have these authentic materials in our arsenal, I suggest that we push our early level students to understand these pieces more fully and on a deeper level. Discussions on “vertical alignment” with our colleagues may result in actual reading and listening sources but also in strategies to help students come to a greater comprehension and understanding of these sources.

The free-response section (Part 2) is two-fold and includes writing (interpersonal communication) and speaking (presentational communication). The writing portion asks students first (Part 2A) to write a response e-mail and second (Part 2B) to write a persuasive essay based on printed, graphed, and audio sources. The speaking portion asks students first (Part 2C) to participate in a conversation where half of the conversation has been prepared and second (Part 2D) to speak for two minutes comparing their community’s attitude on a topic to the target language community’s attitude.

In my opinion, this is where the discussion among colleagues gets interesting. What skills can a pre-AP teacher impart to his students that will help prepare them for these performance-based assessments? To be honest, the possibilities are endless. I’ve opted to attempt to give a few examples in chart form in order to simplify the presentation.

As early as the first level of a language, students can be introduced to the above skills, and their teachers can begin to help them develop the needed tools. My students in French I just recently learned greetings, and we watched a brief video of classmates in France saying “hello” and “goodbye.” We discussed the “bises” or French “kisses” between friends, and we took time to explore the differences and similarities between how French friends and American friends greet each other. Asking students to think and compare in this way is preparing them to think along these lines in the future; it is a small step in preparing them for the Cultural Comparison Presentation on the AP exam.

As previously mentioned, pre-AP language teachers have most likely been using many of these outlined strategies all along. Now, however, we have the opportunity to implement these strategies and design new tasks with purpose and with a mission. We want our AP students to enter their AP year of study already familiar with the tasks being asked of them. In this way, students can spend the year honing their interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational skills rather than seeing these types of exercises for the first time. It is my hope that language teachers will sit together, look at this list, and find where they can tweak their activities and projects to include some of these practices. The “vertical alignment” conversation will include more than grammar. It will include discussions about assessment and skills needed for that type of assessment. A small tweak to one exercise is perhaps all it takes to align that exercise with the skills needed on the AP language exam. These small tweaks, or small steps, will lead us in the right direction.

Outstanding Senior in French Award
Recognize outstanding students at the high school or university level!

- a certificate signed by the AATF President and Executive Director
- a press release for local or school newspapers
- a congratulatory letter to principal or dean
- Outstanding Senior medal, available for an additional charge.

Student must be a senior in at least the third year of French study, have maintained a high average, participated in French-related activities, and be a non-native speaker of French. The nominating teacher must be a current AATF member.

For more information and complete eligibility requirements:

www.frenchtachers.org/hq/outstandingsenior.htm or office@frenchtachers.org

(Basic award: $25 / Award + medal: $35)
The AATF National FLES* Commission is delighted to announce the 2014 Poster Contest for elementary and middle school students of French in kindergarten through grade 8. Students enrolled in both public and private schools are eligible, and we hope you will encourage your students to participate in the contest.

The AATF chapters will publicize the Contest. Individual teachers will submit up to three posters in each category to the National FLES* Commission Poster Contest which is chaired by Karen Campbell Kuebler. The theme for this year’s contest is “Science, Technologie, Francophonie! / Science, Technology, French Speakers!”

An opportunity to research and highlight the many contributions Francophones have made to science and technology!

REQUIREMENTS:
1. Entries MUST be completed on 12x18 inch paper and may be done in crayon, pen and ink, water colors, pastels, or magic marker. The captions may be in French or English.
2. Grade categories are: K-1, 2-3, 4-6, 7-8.
3. The sponsoring teachers must be current members of AATF.
4. Each poster MUST be accompanied by the AATF student information form found below (or requested from Karen Campbell Kuebler, 709 Sudbrook Road, Pikesville, MD 21208; e-mail: [kkcdansen@verizon.net]). All information must be completed for the poster to be submitted.
5. Entries will be limited to THREE PER TEACHER FOR EACH CATEGORY. The teachers are asked to select the best posters to be judged on the applicability to the theme, creativity, and effort.
6. Each teacher should send the posters postmarked by March 1, 2014 to Karen Campbell Kuebler, 709 Sudbrook Road, Pikesville, MD 21208; e-mail: [kkcdansen@verizon.net]. Please mail the posters flat, first class, and protected by cardboard.

Winners will be notified in early May. The first place winners in each category will receive a cash prize. Winners in second and third place will receive gifts and certificates. Certificates of recognition will be sent to all students. We again look forward to receiving delightful and creative posters from students throughout the country for the 2014 National FLES* Poster Contest.

NOUVELLES DE LA COMMISSION SUR LA COMPÉTENCE CULTURELLE

Les co-présidentes de la Commission vous invitent à collaborer aux deux projets de la Commission.

Projet No. 1 (Michèle Bissière): Mutualisation de ressources pédagogiques pour enseigner la France contemporaine et les cultures francophones [http://culture.frenchteachers.org]

Le but de ce projet est de mettre en commun des articles de presse récents, accompagnés de fiches pédagogiques, à utiliser dans des cours de langue et de culture. Les textes sur la France et les pays francophones seront regroupés en catégories telles que la famille, la géographie, l'immigration, la politique, la religion, le sport, le travail, etc. Le projet vise à remédier au manque de documents récents dans les manuels de langue et de culture et à faciliter le travail des enseignants, car la recherche et la préparation de tels documents demande un investissement de temps important. En collaborant à ce projet, les membres de l'AATF auront accès à des textes variés qui leur permettront de suivre l'évolution de la société avec leurs étudiants/élèves.

Projet No. 2 (Marie-Luce Schein): La France «multiculturelle» au travers de l'histoire, de la culture, et de la politique [http://culturecom.frenchteachers.org]

L'idée de ce projet est de donner aux enseignants des occasions multiples de se pencher sur la diversité culturelle en France dans tous ses aspects et sur la problématique de l'immigration et de l'intégration de façon à envisager non seulement des projets de recherche personnels mais surtout de créer des occasions pour nos apprenants de découvrir la diversité culturelle. Cette problématique touche tous les aspects traditionnels des institutions françaises comme l'éducation, le travail, le logement, la santé, la politique, etc.

Cette exploration mènera aux grandes questions de l'immigration mais s'attacherà à démontrer la diversité culturelle en France dans les domaines suivants: (a) la littérature pour adultes et juniors; (b) l’art; (c) la danse; (d) la musique; (e) la chanson; (f) la cuisine.

Pour participer, consultez les consignes sur les sites des deux projets.

Si vous désirez recevoir des nouvelles de la Commission, inscrivez-vous auprès des co-présidentes, Michèle Bissière, UNC Charlotte [mhbi ssie@uncc.edu] et Marie-Luce Schein, Texas Christian University [m.schein@tcu.edu].

“A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME”—ADVOCACY AND PROGRAM NOMENCLATURE

Juliet’s words in Act II, Scene 1 of Shakespeare’s famous play 1 are not just a part of her quest for a resolution to the couple’s big family-oriented dilemma; they are also emblematic of the problems created by names and our attachments to them. This is apparent in several areas of descriptive nomenclature used in college programs for languages other than English (LOTE) which we will examine through the lens of advocacy. LOTE is too technical. How about Foreign Languages? Modern Languages? World Languages? The negative in “foreign” is its otherness. However, “world” and “modern” should include English. A discussion in the FLTEACH forum brought no consensus or even majority opinion in this matter.2

“Foreign” seems to have the edge in program nomenclature, agency, and association names (Foreign Service, ACTFL, ADFL, foreign exchange, etc.). Some countries where French is an official or extensively-spoken language? Spanish programs were comparatively quick in giving appropriate weight to non-Peninsular Spanish and its cultural expression.

French programs which limit their focus to one country and its literary history will not be praised for a specialization which neglects most of the 700,000,000 French speakers projected by demographers for 2050.3

We know that many serious students of French have much wider interests than the ones implicit in a literature-centered “French” program, as you can see in those portrayed on this French and careers site.4

Fortunately, national standards, ACTFL proficiency guidelines, recognized writing assessments, and portfolios allow focus and targets for programs, preventing the runaway informational disorientation which used to stand as languages in the 700,000,000 French speakers projected by demographers... employers would view the change. Even after I presented the following list of umbrella majors,\textsuperscript{12} I was unable to sway the vote, and we lost our French major. I do not doubt that this was a wrong decision. What is amazing is that it was made in a department of devoted teacher-scholars who are generally excellent program builders.

On a national scale, it is easy to see why the case cited above probably applies to dozens of small to medium sized public four-year colleges. Language faculty need to be aware and involved with layers of possible advocacy actions. Nomenclature options do not mitigate the fact that the merit of any particular degree is the merger of planning, content, work, and result, the same factors that determine its reception. However, departments should not be afraid of the political act of changing a program’s name, provided it conforms to what they do and does not confuse the public that will use the skills of its graduates.

AATF SEEKING NOMINATIONS FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

The Nominating Committee is asking all AATF members to submit nominations for the position of AATF Vice-President for the term 2015-2017. According to the constitution, the duties of AATF Vice-Presidents are as follow: “The Vice-Presidents shall oversee particular Association functions or undertake special projects as determined by the Executive Council.” Further explanations have been developed as follow:

To serve and assist at the discretion of the President: by attending executive council meetings; by attending the full annual conference of the AATF; through excellent communication skills; through designated areas of focus germane to the concerns of the AATF;

To support and promote the mission of the AATF; see mission statement at [www.frenchteachers.org/hq/aatfmiss.htm].

To facilitate program development by supporting permanent concerns of the AATF: promotion and advocacy; recruitment; leadership development.

Additional areas of focus could include, but are not limited to: development of materials centers; development of resource packets; development of Web sites; inter-commission liaison; grants and scholarships; workshops and other presentations; support of commission projects as needed; correspondence with allies (local politicians, PTO, business executives, etc.);

We ask that you check with the person or persons whom you nominate to be certain that they are willing to run for office and that they understand the terms of office and duties of the office of Vice-President. You may send their CV at the time of nomination or it may be sent later, but should arrive by the closing date for nominations, March 1, 2014. The CV should stress the work of the person with AATF as well as other language related organizations. It shall be limited to no more than five (5) pages in length.

If additional information is required, the committee will request it. While publications and career paths are important, they should not be the primary focus of the CV.

Send your nominations and address any questions to Fred Toner [toner@ohio.edu] no later than March 1, 2014.

Requirements for Applicants:
1. Must be willing to attend the entire AATF convention in Providence.
2. Must be a member of AATF for at least three years.
3. Must be willing to join the board of the local AATF chapter and serve as an officer at a later date.
4. Must write an article for a state newsletter and present a session at a state conference.

The AATF will waive the cost of registration for the Providence convention and will reimburse two nights hotel accommodations (double occupancy) during the Leadership Program.  The cost of meals during the Program will also be covered by the AATF.  Direct questions to [madamep51@hotmail.com] or [kashubam@chc.edu].

AATF EXCELLENCE IN FRENCH AWARD

The AATF has established a new award to recognize French students at all levels.  This will allow teachers to reward students in each year of French study or multiple students in a given class.  It will also allow teachers at the elementary or middle school levels or in community colleges to recognize their students.

The AATF Outstanding Senior in French Award (see Web site or November issue) is still available for one exceptional senior student each year at the high school or university level.  Nominations must be made by a current AATF member.

To qualify for the award, a student must:
- have demonstrated excellence in the study French;
- be currently enrolled in French;
- have demonstrated commitment to the study of French by participating in extracurricular activities related to French which may include but are not limited to the Grand Concours, study abroad, National French Week activities, or French Club, Pi Delta Phi, tutoring;
- be a non-native speaker of French;
- be nominated by an AATF member.

Students will receive a certificate acknowledging their award and a press release to distribute to local media; and a congratulatory letter will be sent to the principal or dean. The registration fee for the award is $25. For an additional $10 fee, students can also receive an Armes de Paris medal.

There is no deadline for this award.  The nomination form is posted on the AATF Web site.  Nominations can also be made through the On-line Store.  Contact [office@frenchteachers.org] with any questions.

Credit Card # _______________________________ Exp. __________________ Sec. Code _______________
The AATF invites nominations for four annual awards for outstanding teachers, one at each level: elementary school, middle school or junior high school, high school, and postsecondary (university, college, or community college). The purpose of the award is to recognize teachers who have demonstrated excellence and commitment in the teaching of the French language and French and Francophone cultures and literatures.

Each winner will receive a certificate from the AATF recognizing his or her outstanding contribution to the teaching of French and a one-year complimentary membership in the AATF for 2014, a cash award, and a one-year subscription to Le Français dans le monde. An official presentation will be made at the AATF Awards Banquet in New Orleans in July 2014.

Nominations may be made by any AATF member in good standing or by an AATF Chapter. The nominee must be an active member of the AATF. All documents must be submitted by February 1, 2014.

The selection committee will consist of two members of the AATF Executive Council and one member at large. Any nomination that does not conform to the guidelines below in length or content will not be considered. A teacher may receive the award only one time at a given level. If there is no suitable candidate at a given level, the AATF reserves the right not to make an award.

The AATF will acknowledge the recipients of the awards by sending a letter to their principal and/or supervisor and will issue a press release, if requested. The National Bulletin will include a feature article on the recipients.

TIME LINE
Because the awards will be presented at the annual convention, the deadline for receiving all documents will be February 1, 2014. Decisions will be made by March 1. Recipients will be notified by March 15 so that they can make arrangements to be present at the awards program.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS
1. Nominees must have a minimum of five years teaching experience at the level for which they are candidates and must be teaching currently at that level.
2. Nominees must have been members of the AATF for the past five consecutive years.
3. Current AATF officers are not eligible for these awards.
4. Nominees must have made a significant impact on students, school, and community at the award level.
5. Nominees must be active participants in AATF activities locally, regionally, or nationally.

EVALUATION CRITERIA
Nomination packages will be evaluated for evidence of (1) outstanding teaching experience, (2) professional growth and development, and (3) contribution to the profession.

Evidence of outstanding teaching experience may include but is not limited to:

- demonstration of students’ exemplary proficiency in French, knowledge of French language and Francophone cultures and literatures, and motivation for continued study of French,
- increased enrollment or expansion of curricular offerings, or previous teaching awards,
- student participation in extracurricular French activities, exchange programs, internships, and competitions, or
- students’ high performances in French on standardized tests.

Evidence of professional growth and development
- participation in AATF chapter and national activities,
- participation in foreign language conferences, workshops, and seminars,
- pursuit of advanced degrees and education, or
- grant-supported research, projects, workshops, or travel.

Evidence of contributions to the profession may include
- leadership and service in professional organizations, including the AATF,
- research or presentations at conferences or publications in professional media, or
- sponsorship of extracurricular activities or student exchange programs or other innovative programs.

NOMINATION PACKET
The nomination packet may not exceed a total of five pages and must include the following:

1. A résumé of education, teaching experience, membership and offices in professional organizations, AATF activities and other professional activities, and awards, using only the officially provided two-page form (found on the AATF Web site, from Chapter Presidents, and upon request from AATF Headquarters), so that all candidates will be compared in identical rubrics. This two-page required form constitutes pages one and two of the five-page packet. Cover letters from nominators will not be included as part of the five-page packet forwarded to the selection committee.

2. A one-page personal statement by the nominee in which he or she addresses in detail the following topic: Of your contributions in and out of the classroom, of which are you the most proud? Explain your choice (page 3).

3. Two one-page letters of recommendation that address the candidate’s teaching excellence, professional growth and development, and contributions to the profession. These two letters of recommendation are limited to one page each and constitute pages 4 and 5 of the five-page packet. They should come from colleagues or superiors who have first-hand professional knowledge of the candidate’s classroom performance.

4. All nominations and forms should be submitted together in one file.

5. Submit the nomination packet electronically in .pdf format to [abrate@siu.edu]. The nomination must be received no later than February 1, 2014.

WALTER JENSEN SCHOLARSHIP FOR STUDY ABROAD

Thanks to the generosity of the late Walter Jensen, the AATF is able to offer a scholarship for study abroad to a future teacher of French. One $2000 scholarship per year is given to help a student pay for a semester or year’s study abroad. This award is intended to allow a deserving student to participate in a long-term study abroad experience he or she might not otherwise be able to afford. This award will be made for the academic year 2014-2015.

Eligibility Requirements

The student applicant must be at least 18 years of age at the time of application and enrolled in an established teacher education program (B.A., B.S., or M.A.T.) in French. Applications for independent study abroad trips or summer programs will not be considered. The applicant must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident and a non-native speaker of French. He or she must be recommended by an AATF member teacher.

Scholarship

The $2000 scholarship will be paid directly to the study abroad program of the winner’s choice to cover tuition, fees, travel, or housing costs for a semester-long or one-year study abroad program in a Francophone country. The recipient may attend an established program in any Francophone country that is accredited by his or her American university. Students may also attend established programs sponsored by universities other than their own providing credit is transferable. Cash payments will not be made directly to recipients.

Application Form

An application form may be obtained by contacting the AATF Headquarters at Mailcode 4510, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901; Fax: 618-453-5733; e-mail: [abrate@siu.edu]. The form is also available on the AATF Web site at [www.frenchteachers.org]. Application materials should be e-mailed in Word or pdf format to [scholarships@frenchteachers.org]. File names should include the applicant’s name and be sent as one document (with the exception of recommendations which may come separately). The deadline for receipt of applications is March 15, 2014.

NEWS FROM THE AATF EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

This year there have been several changes to the AATF Executive Council. We would like to take this opportunity to welcome a new member.

Marie-Luce Schein was elected to the position of AATF Region VII Representative (South Central) for a three-year term and assumed office on January 1. Christine Gaudry-Hudson (Region III) and Fred Toner (Region V) were re-elected to three-year terms as Regional Representative. Madeline Turan was re-elected to a second term as Vice-President of the AATF.

We would like to thank them for their service and thank those candidates who agreed to stand for election: Margaret Haggstrom (MD), Dan Noren (MI), and Randa Duvick (IN). Their continued support of the AATF is an invaluable asset to the association.

At the Providence convention, Nathalie Degroult was confirmed as Managing Editor of the French Review for Volumes 88-90. We will officially welcome her in New Orleans.

We would also like to thank the three outgoing members of the Executive Council for their dedication and service to the AATF. Janet Smith served one term as Region VII Representative (Southwest). She served on numerous committees and brought new ideas to the Executive Council meetings. Michel Gueldry, Managing Editor of the French Review, will finish work on his final volume of the French Review in May 2014. We thank him for his hard work maintaining the excellent reputation that the our journal enjoys around the world. Finally, our Past-President Walter Jensen, the AATF is able to offer a scholarship for study abroad to a future teacher of French. One $2000 scholarship per year is given to help a student pay for a semester or year’s study abroad. This award is intended to allow a deserving student to participate in a long-term study abroad experience he or she might not otherwise be able to afford. This award will be made for the academic year 2014-2015.

Eligibility Requirements

The student applicant must be at least 18 years of age at the time of application and enrolled in an established teacher education program (B.A., B.S., or M.A.T.) in French. Applications for independent study abroad trips or summer programs will not be considered. The applicant must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident and a non-native speaker of French. He or she must be recommended by an AATF member teacher.

Scholarship

Application Form

An application form may be obtained by contacting the AATF Headquarters at Mailcode 4510, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901; Fax: 618-453-5733; e-mail: [abrate@siu.edu]. The form is also available on the AATF Web site at [www.frenchteachers.org]. Application materials should be e-mailed in Word or pdf format to [scholarships@frenchteachers.org]. File names should include the applicant’s name and be sent as one document (with the exception of recommendations which may come separately). The deadline for receipt of applications is March 15, 2014.

AATF SMALL GRANTS

The AATF Small Grants program is intended to support local projects by members who need an extra infusion of cash in order to get their project off the ground or to bring their project to completion. The total amount of funds available is $5000, with the maximum award being $500. Matching funds from the chapter to which the applicant belongs or from another source must be committed. In this way, it is hoped that the applicant can attract sufficient overall funding.

Application procedures and requirements remain the same as in previous years. A letter specifying the follow-should be sent via e-mail to [smallgrants@frenchteachers.org] by March 1, 2014: (1) name of applicant and chapter to which he/she belongs; (2) a brief summary of the project, including purpose, individuals involved, dates; (3) total anticipated budget; (4) funds requested; (5) other sources of funds, including amount to be matched from chapter treasury, if applicable (This must be attested to by the Chapter Secretary-Treasurer). Every year some interesting requests remain unfunded because of lack of financial support at the Chapter level; it is important to begin the application process as soon as you read this by alerting your Chapter officers to your upcoming request.

Applicants should remember that the basic purpose of this modest program is to aid those members who need supplementary funds to carry out a worthy project that would otherwise be unfunded or underfunded. Projects must bear a relationship to the purposes of the Association, namely furthering the study of French in the U.S., and be of potential benefit to other AATF members or to his/her students. Under no circumstances will awards be made to carry out strictly personal research or to travel abroad for the sake of general enlightenment.

Members at all levels of instruction may apply.

A committee will evaluate the applications and determine the recipients. Preference will be given to new projects having a wide impact. Projects for National French Week 2014 are encouraged.
CLASSEMENT ACTIVITY

EST-CE QUE JE PEUX ÉCOUTER MON IPOD?

How many times have I heard that question after a student finishes a written test or while working on a project in class? I am not naive; I know that many students are not listening to French music, even when I suggest it and show them what they can download. They want to listen to their music, the sounds and rhythms of their lives. Many of my students spend much of their waking hours surrounded by music. I do have students who enjoy the French music that I present in class. Some sing it down the hallways. But I am more likely to hear students humming familiar Top 40 songs in class or fawning over the latest pop star to hit the paparazzi scene. I have to admit to humming the tunes myself on the drive home from school, wondering how I can incorporate them into the classroom effectively and authentically.

Language educators have been talking about authentic materials and experiences for some time now. Students are asked to relate to materials and text that have no grounding in their own lives except for how different those things are from what they encounter every day. I love authentic materials; they make class much more real and can add to a student’s intrinsic motivation when they realize they have read, listened to, and understood something that is really meant for French speakers. I use them in the classroom every day, and my instructional units begin and end with authentic materials and tasks. I watch my students struggle, become more familiar with, and hopefully grasp at least a part of the linguistic and cultural challenges inherent in authenticity. True, these materials are authentic to the French. They do not feel very authentic to my students; they are foreign, strange, and distant. The angel on my shoulder tells me to stick with it. The devil on the other shoulder argues that I should incorporate materials that are more authentic to my very American student population.

Let’s face it, most of our students hear and speak French between 30-90 minutes a day, in our isolated classrooms, away from the stresses and drama of real life. How authentic is that? How can we embrace a part of their lives and integrate it into the study of the Francoophone cultures and the French language? As French instructors, we know that it is absolutely authentic to hear an American or English song on French radio, or to watch an English-speaking pop star giving an interview on French television. We also know that French adolescents and young adults are exposed to the Anglophone (and more specifically, American) culture much more than their American counterparts are exposed to the French. Is it not worthwhile, and a bit interesting, to use those modern songs that are so familiar to our young listeners to help them succeed in using French (and even, a bit selfishly on my part, to enjoy class that much more)?

These melodies can serve, for example, as a way to remember some of the more difficult concepts (like conjugation, especially in the lower levels) that serve as tools to communication, all while relating to their experiences and making French class just that little bit more relevant. I adapt new, modern songs for my French classes, giving them a bit of their own authenticity linked to the French classroom. Every few years I will need to change the song to better reflect the incoming student population (this also keeps me somewhat in the loop as each year I begrudgingly distance myself more and more from my students with age). My students love that I create these new conjugation songs (and there are surely more to come) that I find to be incredibly useful and fun tools to help students remember those essential verbs that will serve them throughout their French studies and beyond. The best songs are those with easily recognizable melodies, with a limited vocal range, and usually an upbeat tempo to energize the classroom (“When I Was Your Man” breaks this last rule but the melody is catchy). I hope that National Bulletin readers can use these songs as well, or get the itch to rewrite the latest hit themselves.

Être – to the tune of “Dynamite” (Taio Cruz)

I throw my hands up in the air sometimes, saying “ÊTRE, I don’t get ya” / But then I conjugate and realize that it’s “ÊTRE, the verb that fits ya” / It’s got, je suis, tu es, il est, elle est, nous sommes, vous êtes, ils sont, elles sont AM – ARE - IS, it’s the verb TO BE / Come on now, sing along with me!

Avoir – to the tune of “Firework” (Katy Perry)

You just gotta conjugate for je tu il /

2012 CHICAGO CONVENTION PROCEEDINGS NOW AVAILABLE
The second volume of Selected Proceedings from the AATF convention, now available through the AATF Web site, reflects the quality and diversity of the papers presented in Chicago in 2012. We are pleased to make these excellent contributions available, demonstrating once again the AATF’s commitment to the dissemination of knowledge about the teaching and learning of French.

The articles selected offer insights into areas of interest being explored by colleagues from the U.S. and abroad. The convention in Chicago was a meeting place for the exchange of ideas, techniques, and materials, and this volume reflects the wide range of topics featured in the program.

The multifaceted nature of this volume attests to the richness of our field and to the dedication of our colleagues. Our sincere thanks go to those who presented at the convention, to those who submitted their work to this project, and to those who served as reviewers for this volume.

The proceedings can be accessed at [www.proceedings.frenchteachers.org]; ID AATF2012. The password is Chicago. Enter this information slowly, or the site won’t recognize it.

Le hockey, an essential nutrient of Canadian culture, can bring new life to some traditional building blocks of the French curriculum at many levels. Kristen Purdy Russett has shared a wonderful resource that she has successfully used to promote French at her middle school in Massachusetts. She has incorporated materials offered free from the Boston Bruins' organization (presented by AT&T) to reinforce her classroom curriculum and motivate her students. She writes: "I have been lucky enough to work with the Boston Bruins on developing French curriculum materials for their ICE School program. They are fun, hockey-themed lesson plans that are designed to get kids excited about French. Hockey and French are such a natural pairing because of the incredible popularity of hockey in Canada and due to the many Francophone stars, including the Bruins' own Patrice Bergeron." Kristen was part of the team that created the classroom lessons (which she updates annually), and her students have certainly profited from her involvement, including having the thrilling opportunity to meet Patrice Bergeron and speak French with him!

The Web site [www.bostonbruins.com/iceschool] invites any teacher (French language, math, geography, ELA, physical education, and science) to visit and sign up. The ICE School program embraces interested schools in New England by offering a newsletter, program updates, ticket offers, and prizes (and you might win a visit from Blades, the Bruins mascot!). However, any interested teacher in any state can access the lesson plans and glean from them what is appropriate for the students' level. For example, there are games for verb conjugations, adjectives, nationalities of the players, hockey vocabulary to name just a few—plus wonderful photographs of the players. One of my favorite activities is a dominoes game (see page 24) using the colors of each of the hockey teams in the league. The lesson plans include two sets of dominoes that can be photocopied for students. Each domino has three squares, half colored in and half with the words for the colors spelled out. The youngest pre-readers could use all colors without the words, but beginning readers would benefit from the reinforcement of seeing the words they have already learned orally in the classroom. Young students might have fun making their own dominoes with other color combinations as well. To play, shuffle the dominoes and place them upside-down in a pile. Take one domino from the pile and place face up. Players take turns drawing from the top of the pile to try to match what is on the table: color to word/word to color. If a player cannot use his domino, he keeps it for the next turn when he must draw again. At that time he may, however, play both dominoes if there are matches available. Probably the game works best with two or three players for each set of dominoes. Have the students say the matching colors out loud to practice each time they can play one of their dominoes. The winner is the player with no dominoes left (or the fewest when the pile is done). Add your own rules, and amusez-vous bien!

Is there a sports team in your area that provides educational materials for your students? Let us know!

French Government Scholarships
The French Cultural Service is offering AATF members who teach at the K-12 levels scholarships for study in France during the summer 2014. The programs provide intensive study of French language, teaching French, and modern French culture.

The scholarship covers the cost for a two-week program during the first half of July, food, lodging, and cultural visits during the program. The programs will be selected from among the CLA de l'Université de Franche-Comté Besançon, le CAVILAM de Vichy, l'Alliance française de Bordeaux. Participants are responsible for their own travel and personal expenses.

Candidates must propose a project that they plan to carry out during the stage. This project should involve some aspect of research on French culture and should be of benefit to students. Final details will be posted on the AATF Web site as soon as they are available.

Québec
Le Ministère des Relations internationales du Québec (MRIQ) attribuera des bourses pour un stage en langue, culture et société québécoises offertes aux membres de l'AATF. Le stage aura lieu du 7 au 25 juillet 2014 à l'Université Laval. Les candidats devraient (1) enseigner le français à plein temps ou être responsables de l’encadrement de professeurs de français au niveau préuniversitaire ou universitaire; (2) posséder une excellente maîtrise du français parlé et écrit; (3) avoir la nationalité américaine; (4) être âgés de 18 à 55 ans; (5) ne pas avoir participé au stage au cours des cinq dernières années; (6) être membres de l’AATF.

La bourse couvre les droits d’inscription et les frais de scolarité du stage, l’hébergement en résidence universitaire (chambre simple), une allocation repas (une somme forfaitaire de 300$ Can.), l’accueil à l’aéroport (service de navette), une couverture médicale (300$ Can.), l’accueil à l’aéroport (service de navette), une couverture médicale (300$ Can.), l’accueil à l’aéroport (service de navette), une couverture médicale (300$ Can.).

Eligibility
Applicants for all of the scholarships must be U.S. citizens (as specified in the description) or permanent residents whose first language is not French. The recipients must hold a teaching position in French during 2013-2014. Preference will be given to members who have been in good standing since January 1, 2012. Current AATF chapter presidents and Executive Council members are not eligible. Members who have received an AATF scholarship during the past five years (2009-2013) are also not eligible. Scholarship recipients agree to make a presentation at a foreign language conference in 2014-2015.

Selection Process
Scholarships will be awarded to members who indicate a plan to use the scholarship to benefit themselves professionally and to enhance or expand the curriculum for students. Each applicant must submit a proposal for a project to be completed during the course of the stage. Applications will be reviewed and the decisions will be announced by early April 2014. A number of factors will be weighed: clarity and specificity of the candidate’s statement (1-2 pages); reasons for applying and level of French (candidates are expected to have a level of proficiency which will allow them to follow university-level coursework in French); quality of project; teaching assignment; evidence of professional commitment; future career plans in education; and letters of recommendation.

Application
Applications forms are available on the AATF Web site [www.frenchteachers.org]. Applicants should do the following:

1. Complete the application form, and attach additional pages as necessary.
2. Submit two letters of recommendation enclosed with the application or sent via e-mail. (One of the letters should come from the principal, dean, or department chairperson, and one from someone who knows the candidate and his/her work well.) These letters of recommendation should contain a serious, detailed evaluation of the applicant’s professional and personal qualities.
3. Application materials should be e-mailed in Word or pdf format in a single file to [scholarships@frenchteachers.org]. The file name should include the applicant’s name and be sent as one document (with the exception of recommendations which may come separately).
4. The application must be received by February 16, 2014, to be considered.

AATF OUTSTANDING SENIOR IN FRENCH AWARD

Beginning in 2003, the AATF established an Outstanding High School Senior in French Award. In 2005, the Executive Council voted to extend this award to the college/university level. Any public or private secondary school or college/university student with at least one French teacher who is an AATF member may participate. Only one name per school per year will be accepted. In the event that there are multiple French teachers in a given school or department, they must decide among themselves who the nominee will be and submit only one name to the AATF. In the event of multiple submissions, only the first name received will be considered for the award, based on postmark. The nomination must be made by a current AATF member.

To qualify for the award, a student must:

- have maintained an “A” average in French;
- have maintained a “B” average overall;
- be in his or her senior year at a public or private secondary school or at a public or private college or university;
- have demonstrated exceptional commitment to the study of French by participating in extracurricular activities related to French which may include but are not limited to the Grand Concours, study abroad, National French Week activities, Société honoraire de français (for high school students) or French Club, Pi Delta Phi (for university students), tutoring;
- at the time of graduation, have completed at least three years of formal French study;
- be a non-native speaker of French;
- be nominated by an AATF member. Only one student per school per year will be accepted.

Students will receive a certificate acknowledging their award and a press release to distribute to local media; a congratulatory letter will be sent to the principal or dean, and the student's name will be placed on the AATF Outstanding Senior Honor Roll on the Web site. The registration fee for the award is $25. For an additional $10 fee, students can also receive an Outstanding Senior in French medal.

There is no deadline for this award. The nomination form is posted on the AATF Web site. Nominations can also be made through the On-line Store.

 FRENCH REVIEW ANNOUNCEMENTS

The French Review welcomes articles for a Special Issue on Francophonie(s). This Special Issue, to be published in May 2015, will be devoted to the evolving status and meanings of la francophonie. Scholars working in numerous fields are encouraged to submit articles: literature, film, cultural studies, linguistics, pedagogy. Multidisciplinary approaches are welcome. Relevant topics can include: the origins and institutionalization of la francophonie, the ways in which the French language interacts with others in the Francophone world, the concept of la littérature-monde, etc. Authors should consult our on-line Guide for Authors for the formatting requirements: [frenchreview.frenchteachers.org]. Deadline for submission: August 1, 2014.

New Rubric: Dossier pédagogique. The purpose of this rubric is to publish texts and lesson plans that can be used directly in the classroom at all levels. They will be available on-line so that teachers can easily download and/or print them from the French Review Web site. Submitted texts should be sent to the Editor in Chief [edward.ousselin@wwu.edu].

A Reminder about our shorter rubrics: (1) Actualités du monde francophone: applications pédagogiques

Have you recently used news reports of current events in one of your classes? Did you apply a particularly effective teaching method? Do your students now know more about the Francophone world? If so, this rubric will allow you to share your experience with your colleagues.

(2) Lettrismes: le français dans tous ses états

This rubric is devoted to our endless fascination with the French language. Can you present and explain a set of words or expressions in an original way? Can you produce a drawing that will visually illustrate an idiomatic expression? If you are serious about your wordplay, share your texts and graphics with our readers.

Both of these rubrics are designed for shorter texts (between one and two thousand words). For each of them, part of the content (links, graphics, etc.) can be posted on the French Review Web site. All AATF members who have developed innovative methods to use current events in the Francophone world for teaching purposes, or who have found intriguing or playful ways to illustrate words or expressions in French, are invited to submit their texts.

AATF MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The AATF is again sponsoring a membership recruitment campaign. Just as we seek to promote the study of French among our students and administrators, we must also promote membership in the AATF to all our colleagues, in particular our younger colleagues. We ask you to reinforce the benefits of belonging to a professional association to your colleagues.

How It Works

We are offering a special pay-two-get-one-free incentive to current members to recruit new members. If the current member can get two new members to join, 2014 membership will be free. The requirements are:

- the two new members’ forms with payment must be mailed together to National Headquarters with the sponsoring AATF member’s name prominently indicated;
- the current member’s preprinted renewal invoice should, if possible, accompany the two new forms;
- if the current member has already paid 2014 dues, the free membership will be applied to the next year; no refunds will be made.

If you are a teacher trainer, encourage your students who are planning a career in teaching French to join as student members. Membership forms are available on the AATF Web site (www.frenchteachers.org), or we will send membership forms to anyone who requests them.

If you have access to state or local mailing lists of French teachers or members of other language organizations, please think to forward those lists to us, and we will verify whether or not they are already members of the AATF and, if not, do a special mailing to them.

The lists must be current and must contain specifically French teachers. Please help us recruit new and veteran teachers to help the AATF continue to be a dynamic and growing organization!

CHECK THE WEB FOR UPDATES

The Web site will have regular updates on AATF activities including Scholarships, National French Week, Awards at [www.frenchteachers.org].
NOMINATIONS FOR REGIONAL REPRESENTATIVES

The AATF is seeking nominations for Regional Representatives for Region I (New England–CT, MA, ME, NH, RI, VT), Region VI (IL, IA, MN, MO, WI), and Region VIII (Southwest–AZ, CA, HI, NM, NV, UT) for a three-year term, 2015-2017. Nominees must be members in good standing of the AATF and reside within the region that will be electing a representative. Nominations may come from members or from chapters, including those outside the nominee’s own chapter. The AATF Constitution states that a Regional Representative cannot be succeeded by someone from the same chapter. Therefore this year, nominees, other than incumbents, from the Eastern Massachusetts, Chicago/Northern Illinois, and Southern California Chapters, are ineligible. There are incumbents eligible for a second term in Regions VI and VIII.

The Nominating Committee encourages the AATF membership to consider candidates with a proven record of participation in local, state, and national AATF activities. Nominations should be submitted to the chair of the Nominating Committee, Catherine Daniélou [danielou@uab.edu] by March 1, 2013. The committee will contact nominees to submit their curriculum vitae and a personal statement.

ÊTES-VOUS UN PROF ACCOMPLI?

Prove it. Seek National Board Certification. Nationwide, the numbers of educators seeking certification is growing each year. Yet despite incentives in many states, the number of candidates interested in pursuing certification in French is disturbingly low.

National Board Certification in Spanish and French has been available for five years. The number of candidates directly impacts whether or not NBPTS is able to offer registration to teachers for that certificate. So just do it! Don’t put it off any longer. We have worked hard as a group to make French an academic and popular subject of study. Let’s use National Board Certification to show ourselves to be a group interested in professional development as well. For information, visit the NBPTS Web site at [www.nbpts.org].

AATF ANNOUNCES WEBINAR SERIES

Following our highly successful pre-convention and fall webinars, we are announcing two more webinars during the spring semester. In late January, we will offer a webinar on preparing students for the Grand Concours. Webinars are 90 minutes long with 1-3 presenters and take place primarily in French. Participants will have access to PowerPoint presentations and materials created by the speakers, and we will offer practical hands-on activities that can be used immediately in the classroom. We will work with members to provide the necessary documentation so that they can receive professional development credit for their participation. Later in the spring, a second webinar will be scheduled.

Each AATF member will be entitled to one free webinar registration per calendar year’s membership. The cost for nonmembers or for more than one Webinar will be $15. AATF members will receive an e-mail announcement of the exact date and time, and all participants will have to register on line. The announcement will also be posted on our Web site and on our social media pages (AATFrench). If you have topics you would like to see covered in the spring, please send your suggestions to [abrate@siu.edu].

SOCIÉTÉ HONORAIRE DE FRANÇAIS

The establishment of a chapter of the Société Honoraire de Français offers several benefits to a secondary French program. It provides an opportunity to recognize outstanding scholarship in the study of French language through selection for membership, the placement of a special seal on the graduate’s diploma, the wearing of a blue/white/red cord (or white cord) at graduation, and the right to wear the official emblem/pin of the honor society. The chapter provides a vehicle for focusing activities around French language and literature and also for encouraging member participation in the annual writing contest as well as application for the annual travel grants. There is the opportunity for students to serve as officers, directing the induction ceremony, or leading other chapter events. Information is available from Jessica Nelson, Executive Secretary SHF, AATF, Mailcode 4510, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901; Fax: (618) 453-5733; E-mail: [shf@frenchteachers.org], or from the AATF Web site at [www.frenchteachers.org/shf].

CONTRIBUTIONS NEEDED

We are looking for brief ready-to-use teaching units (12-20 pages) for inclusion on the AATF Store. Submissions will be reviewed by a committee of teachers for accuracy, usefulness, and pedagogical soundness before being accepted for on-line publication.

Units will be posted in downloadable pdf format and can be duplicated for use in the classroom by AATF members. Costs will range from $5-$10, depending on length.

To contribute a unit, e-mail the text as one file in either Word or pdf format to [abrate@siu.edu]. Be sure and indicate the targeted level in terms of French and age.

The first such document is now available. Entitled “Exercices pour accompagner Le Ballon rouge, le livre par Albert Lamorisse,” was contributed by Jacqueline Thomas, Texas A&M University Kingsville, former AATF Region VII Representative. To obtain a copy, go to the AATF Web site at [www.frenchteachers.org].
